Training for Online Teaching at American University

The Middle States Commission on Higher Education requires that faculty teaching online undergo proper training. To meet this requirement, CTRL offers a training class for faculty offered in the spring, summer, and fall. For information on class timing and content, contact facultyonline@american.edu.

If faculty have received equivalent training elsewhere, faculty can be “fast-tracked.” Contact CTRL regarding this option at the above email.

Specialized programs (such as the Washington College of Law and the PMBA program) and vendor-partnered degrees (2U or Wiley) receive separate trainings. Contact these programs directly regarding training requirements.

CTRL maintains a list of all faculty that have been trained through our program or have been fast-tracked. The link can be found here:
